AUTUMN.
There is a glory on the earth to-day,
There is a spirit in changing trees;
There is a soft low murmur in my heart;
And on the breeze,
Sweet autumn sheds a gentle influence now,
The whole is clad in beauty and in light;
The sunshine shimmers softly through the trees,
And all is bright.

Some spirit has made love to every flower
That breathes its life out on the passing breeze;
Some magic hand has thrown a witching garb
Upon the trees.

For all the blossoms blush—they seem rare gems
From the bright land of dreams. In earthward flight
Some seraph's wing has swept the trees and left
Gleams of light.

Above us bends the bright, cloudless sky,
And o'er its depths a lone bird wings its flight.
Seen for one moment, then like gilded hope,
It fades from sight.

The spirit of the winds has struck his harp,
But altered is the music of the lay;
The notes are wailing, and the burden is,
"Fading away!"

We love to linger out. The deep-blue sky
Seems nearer now than when the summer's here;
The rustling leaves a melting murmur cast
Upon the ear.

Yes, there's music in the fallen leaves.
They breathe the spirit of the mighty Past;
They wake a chord in each heart as they sigh
"Bright days fly fast."

MASONIC GRAND LODGE OF KENTUCKY.
Address of Grand Master I. T. Martin.

This body assembled in the large hall of the Masonic Temple, Louisville, at 3 o'clock P. M. on the 2d ult., about 350 subordinate lodges being represented, and all the Grand Officers in their seats.

Grand Master Martin delivered the following address, which was listened to with great interest by the Grand Lodge:

BRETHREN OF THE GRAND LODGE—By the permission of a kind Providence, we have been permitted again to assemble in grand convocation, to examine and inspect the work of last year, and to devise new plans and problems for the benefit of the craft within our jurisdiction.

We have been blessed with peace and quiet within our immediate jurisdiction, while the husbandman, as a reward for his toil, has been supplied with enough for his wants, and we have escaped pestilence and an unusual amount of disease, and everything seems to give promise of a brighter future. Under all the circumstances, we should feel grateful to the Giver of all good for having favored us beyond the millions around us.

It is no part of my duty to present you with a finely written essay upon the principles of our order, nor to prove to you its origin goes back beyond the building of Solomon's magnificent temple, and to show you conclusively that God himself clothed the first Mason with an apron in the garden, and to deduce from these premises that it will last while time lasts, and

"When wrapped in fire the realms of ether glow,
And heaven's last thunder shakes the world below," Masonry "shall o'er the ruins smile,
And light her torch at nature's funeral pile."

This work is the business of grand and subordinate orators, and of Grand Masters who make use of these occasions to deliver an oration.

The year now drawing to a close has been one of unexampled activity among the craft, and our numbers have been added to with fearful rapidity.

We have been led to look with alarm upon this rapid increase. This is not a democracy; not intended for the million; but for a select body of MEN; gathered up from the masses, because of their high moral worth and integrity of character. MEN, among whom all can feel that in each of this band he has a friend and brother on whom he can lean with the fullest confidence.

It should be the duty of every Mason to see that no one enters the door of our mystic temple, unless he is a MAN, in the full Masonic acceptance of the term. It should be remembered too by every Mason that when the man is admitted to our order that he not only becomes his brother, but the brother of every other Mason also.

We do not wait members; they will already encircle the world. Then why add a link to our chain unless it is a golden link?

We surely do not want money, and if we do can we afford to barter away the privileges of our sacred order?

Let us then, brethren, guard well the outer door of our mystic temple.

It is with great satisfaction and pleasure that I am enabled to report to you there has been great harmony and peace throughout this jurisdiction during the year, without a question that divides us.

I would suggest for your consideration the propriety of making a constitutional rule for the government of subordinate lodges, requiring the suspension of all members who are one year in arrears for lodge dues, with the proviso that the payment of the money shall restore the party to full membership. Experience has demonstrated that when members are permitted to retain their membership without paying their dues, until they have accumulated for several years, they are weaned from the lodge, and in nine cases out of ten when they do pay up, if ever, they will desert from the lodge.

I would also suggest for your consideration the propriety of changing your constitutional rule so as to require subordinate lodges to charge not less than thirty dollars for the three degrees over which they have jurisdiction. The reason for this change, we think, will be apparent to every member on this floor.

The finances of the Grand Lodge will be found in a most healthy condition, as will be seen by reference to the report of your efficient grand treasurer. By a wise and economical expenditure of your money, with a continued sale and profitable investment of all surplus funds, will soon enable you to dispense with any tax upon subordinate lodges whatever, and we are of the opinion, it would be well to take such steps as will reduce the tax twenty-five per cent., to take effect after our next annual meeting.

I would call your attention to the subject of demitted Masons. It has often been before you; and seems difficult of solution. It seems to be conceded that the question must be met and settled.

One half of the Masons in Kentucky may be estimated as demitted and as drones in the great Masonic hive. It is true, they visit our lodges on many occasions and are very generally present at most of our festive scenes; yet they are not willing to contribute of their means to our cause. While I am not prepared to make any suggestions as to those who have already demitted, I am clearly of the opinion that it would be wise in you to declare by-law, that any demit hereafter granted, shall be good for one year only, and if the party holding it fails, after that time, to join a lodge he shall be declared by the law, suspended from all the rights and privileges of Masonry, until he shall join a lodge. And any Mason coming into this jurisdiction shall have one year to select and join a lodge, and a failure to comply with this order, within the time, shall subject him to like penalties. This will ultimately enable us to get clear of this whole question of droneage.

A number of benevolent brethren in the State have been maturing plans for the erection and endowment of homes for the widows and orphans of our order. Among them, Brother James L. Dallam, of Paducah, has been prominent, and we hope he will present his plans for the consideration of this honorable body.

The brethren of Louisville, with commendable zeal, are already at work, having procured a liberal charter from the Legislature of Kentucky, and under it, have organized a board of directors, and as I am informed, have secured over $30,000 for the purpose of erecting a home for the widows and orphans of our order, and in connection with it an infirmary. This, when completed, will be a monument to the movers in the matter, to Masonry, and to the Commonwealth.

When we look at the names of the brethren who compose this board, at their moral worth, their energy and integrity of character, their business qualifications, we feel assured of its success.

These brethren desire, and should receive the confidence and assistance of every Mason in Kentucky. It is an indisputable fact that our works are not commensurate with our professions.

The prosecution of this enterprise to a happy conclusion would be a source of pride and satisfaction to every Mason in the Commonwealth.

It is designed, as you will see, as a State institution, and I would earnestly commend it to the favorable consideration of the Grand Lodge, that you may take such steps as will bring it to the favorable notice of every Lodge and brother in the State.

Soon after my election as Grand Master, I felt it to be my duty to issue a circular letter to all the Lodges within our jurisdiction, urging contributions for the destitute widows and orphans of Masons in the South. Never were stronger appeals made to any people than to us, and never were appeals made, prompted by greater want and suffering. It was truly gratifying to find so many Lodges, whose ears were opened to the cry of distress, and whose responses to the call gave evidence that they were imbued with the spirit of Masonry. I regret many of the Lodges did not respond with that liberality the cause demanded, while others made no contributions whatever; so the result was not what we had anticipated.

Early in the spring, and before we had gathered in all our contributions, we visited Georgia, South Carolina, Alabama, and a part of Mississippi, that we might know something of the extent of the destitution and want, and to determine the best mode of distribution so as to get the donations in the hands of those who were most in need. Never has it been our misfortune to witness so much suffering and destitution as we saw there, and we hope we may never see the like again. It would accomplish no good at this time to recite to you any part of what we saw; it is to us to-day more like the remembrance of a horrible dream than of what we saw and left. Everywhere we went we met the most cordial reception from our brethren, and while we were pained at their want and destitution, and with the unhappy condition of their country, yet we were proud that we were connected with such men by the ties of great brotherhood.

As this call for aid was made at a time of much prejudice and excitement, we concluded to send one of the circulars to other jurisdictions. We sent one to Lafayette Lodge No. 81, Cincinnati, Ohio, and one to York Lodge No. 266, York, Pa., and it is with pride and pleasure we report to you that each of these Lodges sent us fifty dollars. This was a contribution from MASONRY, and it is an additional reason for our love for this institution.

It shows us the true Mason will hear the cry of distress which misfortune and want wrings from the widow and orphan, regardless of sectional prejudice. It shows us the true Mason who has imbibed the spirit and tendency of Masonry, rises above the passions and prejudices which cloud the vision of mankind in general, and enables him to drink from the pure fountain of brotherly love and to feel that he is drawn to the celestial lodge above, by one of the strongest cords with which God has attached us to his throne.

I will make a report to the Grand Lodge of the amount received by me, and the manner of its distribution.

I regret exceedingly that absence from home, sickness, and pressing business engagements have prevented me from visiting as many of the Lodges as I desired. I had expected and felt it to have been my duty to have made a more thorough inspection of the work, as there is great want of improvement in it. But I am happy to report the great landmarks of the order are everywhere well maintained.

I would beg to call your attention to the custom of this Grand Lodge in the election of your Grand Master but for a single term. It is well known to every representative on this floor that it requires a series of years to qualify a man to make him a good Master of a Lodge, and it is the custom of most Lodges to re-elect their Masters as long as they can get them to serve, and yet in no instance has this Grand Lodge departed from her custom of rotation in office, and we are the only Grand Lodge, so far as I know, that indulges in the practice exclusively. One of the consequences of this custom is, we never get the benefit of the experience of our Grand Masters, and further, we can boast of the longest list of Past Grand Masters that can be found in this or any other country. I know the labors are severe, and that one year's services are enough to satisfy the ambition of any man, but it should be made the penalty for the honor conferred.

Delicacy and inclination would alike have prevented me from calling your attention to this subject, occupying the place I do, but a sense of duty has prompted it, while my own ill health would preclude the idea of my being a candidate for re-election.

The decisions on Masonic law and usages have been very numerous during the year, involving no new questions, however, and nineteen-twentieths of them could easily have been settled by a mere reference to the Constitution of the Grand Lodge. These numerous questions referred to the Grand Master necessitates very much unnecessary labor that ought not to be imposed upon him.

We have been called upon during the year to perform many official acts in laying corner-stones, dedicating halls, installing officers, &c., but a reference to these in detail would occupy too much time and space; suffice it to say that they have been remarkably pleasant and will long be remembered by us as bright and refreshing spots in our labors of the past year, and we indulge the hope that they may have resulted in some good to Masonry.

During the year in my intercourse with the brethren, we have everywhere received from them the most courteous and fraternal consideration, for which we shall ever feel most profoundly grateful.

I cannot close this message without expressing the satisfaction I feel at having received from our able Grand Secretary every assistance and courtesy it was possible for him to have rendered me; and I may be allowed to express the opinion that no Grand Lodge can boast of a more worthy and efficient Grand Secretary can be found in the person of our venerable Past Grand Master, Brother J. M. S. Corkle.

In conclusion permit me brethren, to return you my heartfelt thanks for the honor you have done me by your partiality in calling me to fill the highest office within your gift, and for the courtesy and kindness which has characterized your intercourse with me, and I would invoke the Great Architect of the universe so to direct your councils that this Grand Lodge may be celebrated in all coming time for the wisdom of her action and for the liberality, kindness, and brotherly regard of her officers and representatives.

FATALITY ATTENDING A FAMILY.—As Michael Buckley was driving across the railroad at Macklin's pork-house yesterday morning, the passenger train to Lexington ran into the wagon, throwing Buckley on the track, when he was caught by the cow-catcher and very seriously, if not fatally, injured.

His hip-bone was broken, two very severe holes were cut in his side, almost penetrating to the lungs, and his head was also badly cut, if not slightly fractured. Dr. J. L. Phythian was soon present, and rendered all possible medical aid. At 6 o'clock yesterday evening he was still alive, but little hopes of his recovery are entertained.

A singular fatality seems to attend this family. Some six weeks ago Mr. Buckley lost a step-son with pneumonia; scarce a month had passed and a son, a lad of some 13 years, was killed by the accidental discharge of a pistol in the hands of a playmate. On Monday last another son was seriously stabbed in the throat—and yesterday the father received the above injuries, which will probably result in his death.—Frankfort Yeoman, 7th.

On last Thursday, a negro boy in the employ of Dr. Calvert, of Perryville, was found dead near that place, having been shot through the head. A youth, named Nelson Crane, not more than 13 or 14 years old, was arrested on suspicion of having committed the deed, and on trial he admitted that he had killed him, but did so accidentally. The circumstances were such that he was held for further trial, and failing to give the required bail, $500, he was committed to jail. He is a son of Dr. Page Crane, who was killed in a street fight in Perryville winter before last.—Danville Advocate, 8th.

General George W. Chambers, of Louisville, was 74 years old on the 31st ult. On the same day, at high noon, his wife presented him with ten pounds and one ounce of girl baby. The Courier says this is the fourteenth child, and yet the General is, excepting Leslie Combs, the youngest man in Kentucky.

A citizen of Marion county has been fined one thousand dollars for whipping a negro woman to make her discover some property which she had stolen.

A clock in a New Brunswick (New Jersey) church steeple the other day went largely on a strike, and struck 884 times before it would consent to repose in quietude.

The blood is a perfectly colorless fluid, peppered with little red disks. It is hard to believe it till one sees it through the microscope.

THE CYNTHIANA NEWS

CYNTHIANA, KY.

THURSDAY, : : : Nov. 14, 1867.

A. J. MOREY, EDITOR.

Andrew Johnson and His Pets.

Some two weeks ago the telegram from Washington informed us that the colored population in the District of Columbia were well armed, and drilling under the direction of the Loyal League—an organized body of vipers, hypocrites, and thieves, which has fastened itself upon the country like an incubus, and whose acts, in its own estimation, are always loyal and constitutional. This body, we say, has had the control of the niggers, especially the evil disposed ones, and it was their intention to have used the "man and brother" for the subjugation of President Johnson, should he become so refractory and disloyal as to oppose the acts of Congress, so-called.

This free-nigger body of polluted decency have mistaken their man. They have gone on organizing, calculating, cogitating, slandering, and threatening the President and people, just as if they were all the people in the world, and that the Creator made them to do and act and covet and talk of applying "the knife and torch" to those who resist them in their hellish designs, as if they could or would really be permitted to carry out their notions. But a stop has been put to all this negro soldiering business. They have, by order of the President, been disorganized, and their arms taken away from them.

In this thing the President has honored himself and his country. He has taken a move in the right direction, but he must go far enough to show those old rangers of the rump that he is in earnest—that he means to sustain the Constitution and himself—that he means to sustain his rights, and the rights of the people, and that those who violate the laws of the country will be arrested and punished be he a Freedman's Bureau or any other man.

Furthermore, President Johnson has been informed ere this that the negroes of the five kingdoms of radicalism have been threatening an insurrection and destruction of the lives of all the white people now enslaved under the five tyrants of free-niggerism. The black, ignorant brutes in Louisiana have been holding meetings in the night time, and as many as five thousand niggers have assembled in one body, all armed to the teeth, placing pickets on the highway, and prohibiting the passing of white people. They are stealing everything that the people raise, or any property they leave exposed, and no resistance can be made to their bad acts; and if a white man should have the temerity to shoot or punish one of them, he is arrested immediately by one of the shoulder-strap tyrants of the abolition kingdom of Louisiana, and punished outrageously.

This is a sample of the citizenship displayed by the nigger in a state of freedom. After he has passed under the influences of that infamous Freedmen's Bureau—after he has been manipulated by that bible-circulating, tract-distributing, psalm-singing, nasal twang abolition-radical, the nigger is then ready for murder, rapine, and robbery, and he most generally goes at it as soon as an opportunity presents itself. Such is history since the late lamented passed away.

It is evidently the duty of President Johnson to disarm the Southern negroes, or arm the Southern whites. When the war ended the Southern soldier and the Southern people were guaranteed all their rights under the Constitution of our common country—they were to be protected in life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness if they would lay down their arms and become citizens. The government pledged itself on one side, and the soldiers and people of the South on the other. The government has proved faithless in many respects, but the people as a body have never gone astray. The character of the government is bad, but Mr. Johnson could retrieve it and place it high in the estimation of the people, and of the world at large, if he would but pursue a policy which he has laid down, but which he seem too timid to follow.

Let him command his tyrants in the South to disarm the niggers, and let that protection be given the people which has been promised them.

Mr. Johnson is surrounding himself at Washington with a white army, and General Sherman will be there to command it. Sherman is an officer who has learned to obey orders.—Should the rump Congress propose to impeach Mr. Johnson, and throw him out of the White House, and out of power unconstitutionally, it is our opinion that he will put them all in straight-jackets. One thing is certain, if he will stand for himself and his own rights, the people will back him; and if he will make a call for a posse committatus, provided it should be necessary, there are not railroads sufficient in the country to carry the people to Washington who would want to go. The people have said "down with radicalism, and negro reconstruction," and down they must go.

Garibaldi and the Roman States.

As we believed from the commencement, the Garibaldian insurrection has proved a failure. It could hardly have been called an insurrection, for from all the information at hand, the people of the Roman or Pontifical States did not participate in the emute. It is true that Italians were soldiers, and they were commanded by Italians, but they were not the subjects of Pio-Nono. They were filibusters and adventurers from Europe who may have had their nativity on Italian soil, or may not. If their cause had been just, which, perhaps may have been the case, they would have had more support from their friends; but we have reason to believe that they were adventurers and not citizens of this country, and as such the powers of the country did not permit them to pursue their radical, red republican designs upon Pio-Nono.

We are not opposed to revolutions when they are well founded, and the people are united to put down a tyrannical and oppressive government, but the changes which have been proposed in Europe by the leaders of the people, have always been too radical, and instead of giving relief have turned out to be a curse, and when the people were brought from radical mobocracy to reason and common sense, the chains of rulers, and potentates and tyrants have been riveted stronger and heavier than even upon them. Such was the case with poor Poland, Hungary, and France.

Garibaldi is a crazy radical mobocrat, and we can not believe that he would give a better government to the people of the Roman States than they have now. A people who are made free and are expected to govern themselves, should be a thinking, sober, sensible people. The Italians, as a body, are just as well qualified for self-government as our negroes, and they are as well prepared for being turned loose and made free in a body as so many hyenas are fit to be loose in a village filled with children.

The last news which we have from the Roman States and her invaders confirms all we said in our last issue. Garibaldi, with four thousand followers, had a fight, near Monte Rotondo, with the French and Pontifical soldiery, and was defeated with a loss of three thousand killed, wounded, and prisoners. Garibaldi was captured himself, and is now in hands of Pio-Nono. He will be tried doubtless, and exiled. An exchange says he once attempted to raise a revolution in South America, but failed; and went to New York city, where he established a lager beer saloon, made a few dimes, and feeling that his country needed his services, returned to Sunny Italy. There he has been working mischief to himself and people, until we find him in the hands of those he would destroy. He is a regular Old John Brownite, and admired that old horse-thief so much that he named one of his sons for him.

CENTER COLLEGE.—At the late session of the Synod of Kentucky, at Covington, Dr. W. L. Brinkridge, the President of this institution, read his annual report as to the internal condition of the College. It represented that the number of students now in attendance is 40; that one-third of them were professors of religion, and some of them had the ministry in view.

Radical Reconstruction.

There are ten Southern States now under military surveillance for reconstruction according to radicalism, which means simply that the negro shall be put in possession of all the political power in those States. The country which the radicals propose to negroize is by far the fairest, the most salubrious and productive in the world.

The great Valley of the Mississippi contains more acres of arable land than any other that the sun shines on. Everything that man can eat or wear, can be cultivated and raised there. Our Creator has made it emphatically a "land that flows with milk and honey,"—and the white people who live there are intelligent, generous, and hospitable. Up to the time that radicalism took possession of our country the resources of this great valley were fast being developed. The merry song and happy laugh of the workers of the soil was heard from plantation to plantation. The country was peaceful and the people, black and white, were happy.

How changed now. The country is desolated. Large fields lie uncultivated; and the blacks, instead of attending to their work and making a competency for themselves and children, have, under radicalism, all turned politicians, and ride around the country drinking whisky, playing seven-up, carrying muskets on their shoulders, threatening to murder and destroy the few white people that continue to live there, assembling in large bodies to hold secret meetings to hear speeches from the arch-enemies of radicalism, encouraging them in their evil designs and idleness. Such is the negro in his free state under radical reconstruction.

But a change has come over the spirit of the radical party since the people of the North have declared so powerfully against their hellish designs. The radical press are speaking out boldly against the policy of negroizing the South. Even the Cincinnati Commercial says "that no one need deny that there is a reaction against the radical policy of making black States in the South," and now "that it was unwise in Congress to make it a political necessity for the friends of Congress to offer it and support it at this juncture; and its conclusive defeat in Ohio must be accepted as absolute evidence that the extreme radical policy of converting the South into black States is not acceptable to an immense majority of the people of the North."

Speaking of the radical leaders and their policy, the Pittsburg Chronicle says that "the radical masses are not in sympathy with these inflammatory politicians, and will not consent to be led by them."

The reconstruction policy and radicalism is dying. We might say it is dead already. The white man will be restored to his rights in the South, certain.

If you want the best boot in the United States, call at J. H. Shawhan's.

Court-day passed off in Cynthiana, last Monday, in a business-like manner. Horses, cattle and mules sold at a fair price.

The nicest varieties of hats and caps, and the best boots and shoes are kept J. H. Shawhan.

Col. Cal Morgan and Price Magrath, are erecting in Lexington, the largest Bagging Factory that has ever been built in that city.

You will find the largest and best assortment of cloths, cassimers and vestings, at J. H. Shawhan's.

Go to J. H. Shawhan's if you want any clothing, where you will find the largest and best assortment of clothing ever brought to Cynthiana.

The Firm of Magee & Curl are doing thrifty business in the House Carpenter line. They are prompt and skillful workmen, and they hardly close a contract before they finish the house. They are now building a house for Mr. Smith.

Henry F. Roberts, son of H. Roberts, sr., of this county was bitten by the mad dog which passed through this place last week. Mr. Roberts carried his son to three different places where mad stones were applied, but nothing was affected by their application. It is believed that the dog was not mad. He has been killed.

Brick Pomeroy, No. 2, passed through Cynthiana last week. He is a dealer in Oysters &c., No. 29 West Fifth street, Cincinnati, Ohio. He says he is not a relative of the Old Brick, although he has "shelled him out of his works" very often, which is more than others have ever done. Brick No. 2, keeps the best Oysters for sale in the world. Dealers would do well to buy of him.

LAST SATURDAY'S TROTTING. On Friday night a heavy rain storm passed over this country, and on Saturday, although the day was clear and bracing and the track not as light as it should be, but was found that it would be considered "business" for a horse to make any kind of time over it. Nevertheless, the race must be run, and about eleven o'clock, the Judges called for the drivers of "John Edsal," and "Stonewall Jackson," and gave them their instructions. No distance pole or Judge was established. The first dash of one mile "Stonewall" came out along way ahead. The time was good. Three other heats were run in which "Stonewall Jackson" was successful. Time 3:06 3/8, 3:05, 3:01. The stakes were not paid over because of a charge of foul driving.

Hub Kidd, the dead duck Omnibusman, of Lexington, denies killing the feathered brutes—and Col. Beaux Barkley, the good-looking and polite landlord of the Southern Hotel says it can't be proved by him, but Matlack the Mail Agent is in doubt about the matter, and as he is only loyal man in the United States, we shall let the matter rest until we hear from Best & Co., of that large and fashionable Jewelry Establishment on Main street, where they are daily receiving the latest diamond jewelry, and in fact everything in that line, with watches of every description—in fact this is a regular curiosity shop. Here our polite friend Mr. Willman can be found, and here is where all the wedding jewelry is found, and here the public can be suited.

CORN IS CLARK. — 'his crop is yielding more than farmers anticipated before gathering. We conversed with several who reside near the Bourbon line, that report their yield in the neighborhood of ten barrels to the acre. — Bourbon Democrat.

STATE ITEMS.

At the sale of Mrs. Geo. W. Johnson, in Scott county, on the 5th inst., corn sold at four dollars per barrel in the shock, oats 43 cents per dozen, wheat $2.63 per bushel, cows from sixty to ninety dollars per head, and six oxen one hundred and seventy dollars.

The Owensboro Monitor says that corn is selling at 75 cents per bushel in that county, and that hogs are very scarce, no sales being reported.

The same paper says that hog cholera is prevailing to a considerable extent in many portions of Davies county.

Hanging of Patterson and Hatchell in Indiana.

We find that mob law prevails in other localities, as well as in Kentucky. Last Thursday night, John Patterson, who was arrested at Parks ville, in this county, and taken to Franklin, Indiana, and there confined in jail, on the charge of murder, was taken out by a mob, together with a supposed accomplice named Hatchell and hanged in the woods near town. Hatchell nearly succeeded in making his escape while on his way to the place of execution, but was fired on and captured. At the first attempt to hang Hatchell the rope broke, when another was procured and the deed completed.

This affair has excited but little comment from the press, but we opine had the crime been committed in this locality, it would have been magnified into a "rebel outrage," and a loud call made for Congress to proceed immediately to "reconstruct" the State. — Danville Advocate, 8th.

Covington Live Stock Market.

Cattle—The receipts during the past week have been heavy, amounting to 2,775 head, of which 1,740 were put upon this market, causing a decline of from 1/4 to 1/2c. per lb., with sales of first quality butcher stuff at 55c; 75c per 100 lbs.; second quality do., at 47c; 50c; third quality do., 25c; 30c; extra cattle, 60c; 65c.

Sheep and Lambs—The market for sheep is unchanged. Receipts during the week 1,630 head, all of which, excepting 300 shipped to New York, were sold here. First quality at 37c; 40c per 100 lbs.; second quality, 30c; 35c; third quality, 25c; 28c. Lambs are in fair demand at 20c; 25c per head.

Hogs—The week's receipts were 5,803 head. Of this number 1,500 were sold to packers before arrival, and 3,500 have sold at the pens at prices ranging from 5c to 6c per 100 lbs gross, leaving 800 still in the pens, and 1,000 head near the city. Market very dull.

At a called meeting of Warren Lodge, No. 110 F. & A. M., held at Leesburg, Ky., November 9th, 1867, on the occasion of the death of our beloved brother, David A. Grimes, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, it has pleased the Divine Architect of the Universe to remove from his earthly labors our much esteemed brother, David A. Grimes, who departed this life on the 7th inst. at his residence in this county; Therefore be it

Resolved, That we offer our sincere sympathies to the bereaved family who mourn the loss of a devoted and affectionate husband and a kind and indulgent parent.

Resolved, That the members of this Lodge, and visiting members, wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That the foregoing preamble and resolutions be published in the Cynthiana News, and a copy be presented the family.

THRENODY.

BY J. M. HENDRICKS.

The past 'tis but a treasure,
It slumbers not far away,
Under the old chestnut my foot hath passed
In childhood's happy day,
A warm and sunny spot I knew
In the old grave-yard dim,
Beneath whose sod two years ago
We sadly buried him.

Quietly the green vine winds around,
Lifting its blooming eyes
Up from the damp and shady mound
Where my dear father lies,
And underneath the evergreen
He sleeps from grief and care,
Alone beneath its shady screen—
We sadly buried him there.

The dews of heaven may chill and lie
Around his earthly tomb,
But they cannot make his memory die,
Or nip affection's bloom.

My life, like his, will pass away
And in silence with him sleep;
But I can never forget those happy days
We in earlier days did keep.
Covington, November, 1867.

DIED.—On Thursday last, 7th inst., near Leesburg, Ky., of consumption, DAVID A. GRIMES, aged about 48 years.

WANTED.—Sheep Pelts, Green and Dry Hides, for which we will pay the highest market price. PECK & VANHOOK Jan. 24, 1867.

GREAT INDUCEMENTS OFFERED in Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Caps, Furs, Shawls, carpeting, oil cloths &c., &c., at the STONE FRONT.

The Truth About Dyspepsia.

Whoever says that dyspepsia is incurable, tells a—that is to say, makes an egregious mistake. More than ten thousand aggravated cases have been cured by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, while the number that have been prevented from coming to a head, by the same means, is incalculable. In this season of the year, when the appetite is sometimes too vigorous for the comfort and safety of the stomach, indigestion is most prevalent and most distressing. Is the appetite to be balked to accommodate the digestive organs? Not so; for then the frame would lack its due proportion of nutriment. The thing to be done is to strengthen the stomach, tone the liver, and put the bowels in perfect order. Nothing will do this so effectually, so rapidly, so quietly, so pleasantly, as Hostetter's Bitters. This potent preparation cleans and balances the system, and clothes it as it were, with defensive armor. Chronic dyspepsia, liver complaint, and fever and ague are never known to attack those who are wise enough to invoke the aid of this great preventive. Oct3-2m

A CARD TO INVALIDS.

A Clergyman, while residing in South America as a missionary, discovered a safe and simple remedy for the cure of nervous weakness, early decay, diseases of the urinary and seminal organs, and the whole train of disorders brought on by baneful and vicious habits. Great numbers have been cured by this noble remedy. Prompted by a desire to benefit the afflicted and unfortunate, I will send the recipe for preparing and using this medicine, in a sealed envelope, to any one who needs it, free of charge. Address, JOSEPH T. INMAN; Station D, Bible House, New York City.

The friends and patrons will please accept the sincere thanks of the proprietors of the Stone Front, for their kind and liberal patronage, with the full assurance to those who will favor us with a call, that prices and quality will always be warranted as low as the lowest, and the best of attention given. No pains, time or cost has been spared in the selection of goods, and the stock is not surpassed by any.
